Headline:
Very windy and feeling bitterly cold today.

Today:
Further rain and hill snow at first, especially in Pennine areas, but becoming drier and brighter for much of the region by the afternoon. Very strong northerly winds will only slowly abate during the day, and feeling very cold. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry and largely clear through the evening and overnight, with winds continuing to ease, especially inland. A widespread and in places sharp frost will develop. Minimum temperature -6 deg C (21 deg F).

Sunday:
A frosty start but lots of sunshine through the morning. More cloud by the afternoon may bring a few showers. Much lighter winds than recent days. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy but mostly dry on Monday. Windier again by Tuesday with outbreaks of rain, but also feeling a bit milder. Blustery and showery on Wednesday.
